We bring the ethics, transparency and professionalism of a well established law firm into the world of sport, primarily focussing on football, to help clubs and players focus on what matters: success both on and off the field of play.

Player care and club support, through our range of products, services and sporting contacts, makes us an unrivalled proposition when choosing representation whether that be acting for a player or on behalf of a club.

McHale & Co solicitors have acted for many sports professionals and clubs over the last 10 years including the areas of transfer negotiations, contracts and legal representation on behalf of clubs, claims for injured players, obtaining work permits, acting for players in property transactions and before the Courts. SECURING THE FUTURE

THE SPORT BUSINESS

When it comes to developing sport at grassroots level, McHALE Sports doesn't just talk a good game. We will invest 5% of our earnings to support individual projects which help to get more people playing sport.

This investment will be managed by The Sport Business, a Community Interest Company which uses sport to address wider social issues including health, education and community cohesion.

We will liaise with players and key partners to identify appropriate community schemes and to ensure maximum effectiveness of our investment. We will also operate a community top-up fund allowing players to contribute to any scheme of particular interest to them.

We believe this initiative will help players understand and appreciate their position as role models in society.
